Our Crews

You won't find a better or more respected network of camera crews anywhere. They have all been hand picked by Crews Control and pre-qualified on the basis of their work, references and experience. All of our camerapeople must submit demo reels, resumes and references for our review and approval before they are even considered for representation. While other crewing companies do not request demo reels, we believe it's the only way to ensure that each crew meets our high production standards.

All of our crews are made up of seasoned professionals, most of them have been shooting for decades. They are equally comfortable in taping your CEO in a corporate environment, shooting a new product line or capturing client testimonials. You will find that our crews are your best choice for the most challenging projects because they exhibit a strong flair and expertise for lighting, framing and movement.

We realize that when a Crews Control crew is on location they not only represent our company, but your company as well.

We guarantee a level of professionalism that will make both of our companies look good.

Client Commentary

“Thank you for all the wonderful work you have done on our behalf in organizing the masses of video crews around the country and the world over these last several weeks. This was a huge undertaking, and you pulled it off seamlessly (solving several problems along the way!). Christy, you are very detailed and efficient, and it was a pleasure working with you in what seemed like a madcap race against time. Because of you, all the elements are now in place to make this project hugely successful.”

“One call, and I know we’ll get a talented, professional crew anywhere at a reasonable cost.”

“Coordinating a location shoot used to be quite an ordeal for us. It usually took a full day just to find a crew, and of course there was no guarantee that we’d be happy with the results. But all of these problems disappeared once we found Crews Control. One call, and I know we’ll get a talented, professional crew anywhere at a reasonable cost.”

John Fortuna

MetLife

“Each of my crews in Portland, OR and Dallas, TX were absolutely great. It is difficult to travel and put your faith in an out-of-town crew. But the manner and talent of these six gentlemen were of a caliber that I can’t always count on finding. Patient, flexible, amicable, good listeners, good lighting, good sound. Overall excellent technique and breadth of experience. Thank you for matching me up with such a great group.”

Chris Howe

“We have found that Crews Control is an ideal way for us to provide worldwide crew support on short notice. They have always provided us with terrific production crews, both foreign and domestic. I just call them up, tell them what I need, and it gets done on time and on budget.”

People Management

For the past 19 years Crews Control has represented the best freelance production personnel. As the first “crewing” agency we have had the pleasure of working with some of the best folks in the industry on a project by project basis. Over the years we have had numerous requests from our clients to act as third party employer. As this is a natural extension of our current services, we are pleased to announce that Crews Control has “teamed” up with Team People, an innovative staffing and people management company based in Washington, D.C.

“As the first “crewing” agency we have had the pleasure of working with some of the best folks in the industry...”

Team People specializes in helping companies build and operate their communications and media production departments. Team People never forgets that the output of the corporate media production department is critical to a company’s image, whether that relates to customers, employees, industrial partners, or shareholders. But producing media is seldom a company’s core competency. It is theirs, however. Team People is a media company providing media staffing solutions.

Corporations and Broadcasters use outside staffing services for many of the same reasons: to relieve them of the burden of recruitment, management, human resources, accounting, and operational issues. The folks at Team People think the phrase “people management” best describes their business. That means they are recruiting, scheduling, monitoring performance, handling personnel issues and other matters, freeing up their clients to concentrate on their core business.

Team People begins by assessing the client’s goals and current capabilities. They then create a staffing and technical plan to suit. Using their extensive contact system, they put the right people in place. And that talent is out there. Team People doesn’t just fill seats; they fulfill their clients’ communications objectives and exceed their expectations.
