About Us Note
This page would contain a mission statement and brief history of the company. The "professional memberships" info from the existing site could be rolled into this page, maybe in a callout box.
Services Note
The Services overview page would contain links to each individual service page, with brief intro text and thumbnail images, if appropriate.
Careers Note
This page would contain intro text explaining why DCI is a great place to work. Beneath that would be any open job listings and a contact form.

Services Note
Each service page will contain intro text noting DCI's experience in that area, in addition to the existing content (lists of specific services)
There will be links to project pages that fall under the service category the user is viewing, where applicable.

Projects Note
These are "case study"-type items detailing DCI's work on a specific project. There will be content for each of these beyond what's there now — somewhat more detailed text, and more and/or better images showing the outcome of the work (if possible).
Clients Note
Similar to existing Clients page, with lists of significant projects for major clients. Links to any projects that are featured in Projects section.
Projects Note
Projects overview page will contain brief intro text and links to each featured project (with a thumbnail, category, and location).
If we can get good enough images, the top of this page might contain a large slideshow rotating through a few featured projects.
